

Angular Test Instructions

Make three views

- Blog
- Glossary
- Contact

You can make the blog page the default page.

Please pay close attention to styling.. E.G. buttons, box-shadows, and borders

Blog

For the blog view, display all posts. Each post should have a post title, description, and date. Each blog title should link to the actual post on the healthcare.gov site, in a new window, and should also be sorted by date, from newest to oldest. You should be able to view english only, spanish only, or both.

EACH POST'S CATEGORIES MUST BE INCLUDED AND STYLED AS IN MOCKUP

Glossary

Show each title and definition, with a search feature that filters upon the clicking of the 'Ok' button. The glossary should be alphabetically sorted. Each definition title should link to the corresponding page on the healthcare.gov site. You should be able to select english, spanish, or both.

There are HTML tags in the JSON for the content property for each Glossary entry. Please have Angular render it out correctly.

Contact

Every field is required. Email field needs to be an email.

For reason select box, populate the following options with ng-options:

- Healthcare Marketplace
- Technical Support
- Website Feedback

WITHOUT USING NG-CLICK, DISPLAY ONE OF THE TWO FOLLOWING ALERTS:

If the form is valid (no blank fields, and correct email address format), display an alert saying "This form is valid"

If the form is invalid (blank field or invalid email address format), display an alert saying "The form is invalid"
